How should I do that? A: Use System.IO.Directory.GetFiles() with an absolute path as the search path. Returns an array containing all the files in the specified directory. Once you have an array of files, you can loop and create the.csv files using the code shown in this post: How to export data from a.CSV file to a PDF file using C#? // // OAuth2Session.m // OAuth2 // // Created by Jon Crosby on 11/5/15. // Copyright (c) 2015 Tech. When the Scottish university told her that, for the first time in its history, it would place priority on applicants from the UK and Eire over non-Scottish applicants, she "rebelled," deciding to apply to Eigg University of the British isles instead.
